

Thinking Laser?

The brightest dentists in the world are the ones who work hard to stay on top of the latest techniques.

They're always thinking. Thinking about ways to make their patients feel more at-ease.

Thinking about ways to perform new procedures the best possible way.

Thinking about ways to make their businesses grow.

If you've considered adding a dental laser to your practice, you owe it to yourself to think about the OpusDuo, from OpusDent.

The OpusDuo is the most sophisticated laser device available today. It's two lasers in one: Er:YAG, which is best for hard tissue treatment, and CO₂, which is ideal for soft tissue. And with its pick-up-and-go wavelength selection and variable-speed footswitch, you don't have to think about restarting the equipment to switch modes. It's simply the best technology you can get.

OpusDent offers a complete line of Er:YAG, CO₂, and diode laser wavelength systems that provide consistent, immediate results with reduced pain, blood and anxiety. Better for you. Better for your patients. Better for your practice.

Now that's something to think about!
